Maidstone Grammar School for Girls Model Publication Scheme

Overview

Freedom of Information Act

This model publication scheme has been prepared and approved by the Information Commissioner. This publication scheme commits us to make information available to the public as part of our normal business activities. The information covered is included in the classes of information mentioned below, where this information is held by us.

Additional assistance is provided to the definition of these classes in sector specific guidance manuals issued by the Information Commissioner.

In line with the scheme, we are committed:

- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information, including environmental information, which is held by us and falls within the classifications below.
- To specify the information which is held by us and falls within the classifications below.
- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information in line with the statements contained within this scheme.
- To produce and publish the methods by which the specific information is made routinely available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- To review and update on a regular basis the information we make available under this scheme.
- To produce a schedule of any fees charged for access to information which is made proactively available.
- To make this publication scheme available to the public.
- To publish any dataset held by us that has been requested, and any updated versions we hold, unless we are satisfied that it is not appropriate to do so.
- To publish the dataset, where reasonably practicable, in an electronic form that is capable of re-use; and, if any information in the dataset is a relevant copyright work and we are the only owner, to make the information available for re-use under a specified licence.

The term ‘dataset’ is defined in section 11(5) of the Freedom of Information Act. The terms ‘relevant copyright work’ and ‘specified licence’ are defined in section 19(8) of that Act.

Classes of Information

Classes of information we publish:

Who We Are and What We Do
Organisational information, locations and contacts, constitutional and legal governance.

What We Spend and How We Spend It
Financial information relating to projected and actual income and expenditure, tendering, procurement and contracts.
What Our Priorities Are and How We Are Doing
Strategy and performance information, plans, assessments, inspections and reviews.

How We Make Decisions
Policy proposals and decisions. Decision making processes, internal criteria and procedures, consultations.

Our Policies and Procedures
Current written protocols for delivering our functions and responsibilities.

Lists and Registers
Information held in registers required by law and other lists and registers relating to the functions of the authority.

The Services We Offer
Advice and guidance, booklets and leaflets, transactions and media releases. A description of the services offered.

The classes of information will not generally include:
- Information the disclosure of which is prevented by law, or exempt under the Freedom of Information Act, or is otherwise properly considered to be protected from disclosure.
- Information in draft form.
- Information that is no longer readily available as it is contained in files that have been placed in archive storage, or is difficult to access for similar reasons.

The Method by Which Information Published Under This Scheme Will Be Made Available
We indicate clearly to the public what information is covered by this scheme and how it can be obtained.

Where it is within our capability, information will be provided on our website. Where it is impracticable to make information available on our website or when an individual does not wish to access the information by our website we will indicate how information can be obtained by other means and provide it by those means.

In exceptional circumstances some information may be available only by viewing in person. Where this manner is specified, contact details will be provided. An appointment to view the information will be arranged within a reasonable timescale.

Information will be provided in the language in which it is held or in such other language that is legally required. Where we are legally required to translate any information, we will do so.

Obligations under disability and discrimination legislation and any other legislation to provide information in other forms and formats will be adhered to when providing information in accordance with this scheme.
Charges Which We Make For Information Published Under This Scheme
The purpose of this scheme is to make the maximum amount of information readily available at minimum inconvenience and cost to the public. Charges made by us for routinely published material will be justified and transparent and kept to a minimum.

Material which is published and accessed on our website will be provided free of charge. Charges may be made for information subject to a charging regime specified by Parliament.

Charges will be made for actual disbursements incurred such as:

- photocopying
- postage and packaging
- the costs directly incurred as a result of viewing information

Charges may also be made for information provided under this scheme where we are legally authorised, they are in all the circumstances, including the general principles of the right of access to information held by us, justified and are in accordance with this published schedule or schedules of fees.

Charges will also be made for making datasets (or parts of datasets) that are relevant copyright works available for re-use. These charges will be in accordance with the terms of the Re-use of Public Sector Information Regulations 2015, where they apply, or with regulations made under section 11B of the Freedom of Information Act, or with other statutory powers of the public authority.

If a charge is to be made, confirmation of the payment due will be given before the information is provided. Payment may be requested prior to provision of the information.

When Requests Do Not Need to be Met
A requester may ask for any information that is held by a public authority. However, this does not mean the school is always obliged to provide the information. In some cases, there will be a good reason why the school should not make public some or all of the information requested.

The school can refuse an entire request under the following circumstances:

- It would cost too much or take too much staff time to deal with the request.
- The request is vexatious.
- The request repeats a previous request from the same person.

In addition, the Freedom of Information Act contains a number of exemptions that allow an institution to withhold information from a requester. In some cases it will allow the institution to refuse to confirm or deny whether you hold information.

Some exemptions relate to a particular type of information, for instance, information relating to government policy. Other exemptions are based on the harm that would arise or would likely arise from disclosure, for example, if disclosure would be likely to prejudice a criminal investigation or prejudice someone’s commercial interests.

There is also an exemption for personal data if releasing it would be contrary to the Data Protection Act.
When Can The School Refuse a Request on the Grounds of Cost?
The Act recognises that freedom of information requests are not the only demand on the resources of a public authority. They should not be allowed to cause a drain on the school’s time, energy and finances to the extent that they negatively affect its normal public functions.

Currently, the cost limit for complying with a request or a linked series of requests from the same person or group is set at £600 for central government, Parliament and the armed forces and £450 for all other public authorities. The school can refuse a request if it estimates that the cost of compliance would exceed this limit. This provision is found at section 12 of the Act.

The school can refuse a request if deciding whether it holds the information would mean it exceeds the cost limit, for example, because it would require an extensive search in a number of locations. Otherwise, the school should say whether it holds the information, even if it cannot provide the information itself under the cost ceiling.

When calculating the costs of complying, the school can aggregate (total) the costs of all related requests it receives within 60 working days from the same person or from people who seem to be working together.

Written Requests
Information held by us that is not published under this scheme can be requested in writing, when its provision will be considered in accordance with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act by contacting:
