FAQs Sixth Form Appeals Entry 2025

My child has not been given a place in Sixth Form, what can I do?

You are entitled to appeal the decision to refuse your child a place for Sixth Form at a particular school, if your child did not meet the entry requirements and/or where there are more eligible children than places available and oversubscription criteria have been applied.

How will my appeal be considered?

The Independent Appeals Panel intends that your appeal will be conducted under a virtual setting. If you can demonstrate an equality consideration that prevents you from accessing the hearing virtually, and you do not have reasonable support to do so, please indicate this on your appeals form or email sixthformadmissions@mggs.org, setting out your reasons. There would need to be clear grounds to identify an alternative format for the appeal to be heard.

It is important that you send in any information that you feel would support your case as the Panel will not be able to consider evidence if it is not submitted.

When will my appeal be considered?

Where the offer of a place would have been conditional upon exam results, appeals must be heard within 30 school days of confirmation of those results. Once you have submitted your appeal you will be told by the Independent Clerk to the Appeals Panel when your case will be considered along with your appeal paperwork.

Who will consider my appeal?

Your case will be considered by an Independent Appeal Panel. There are usually 3 people on the panel, at least one member will have experience in education and at least one will be a lay person, they are independent of the school. They make the decision on whether to uphold or dismiss your appeal. If the Panel upholds your appeal the school must offer your child a place at the school. If the Panel does not uphold your appeal, then the school will not offer your child a place at the school.

There will also be a Clerk in attendance, they are independent of the school and are responsible for the administrative arrangements for the appeal, keep the official note of what is discussed and give independent and impartial advice on the appeals process and admissions law to the Panel Members.

How do I make an appeal?

Please visit our website at https://www.mggs.org/joining-us/joining-our-sixth-form/admissions-into-year-12/ to lodge your appeal by completing the Sixth Form Appeal Form.

What else should I do before I make an appeal?

You should also consider accepting any offer of a school/college place you receive to ensure that your child has a place should your appeal not be successful. Accepting another offer has no bearing on your appeal and the appeals process and does not limit other options available to you.

How do schools allocate places?

In the case of sixth form applications, a meeting may be held to discuss options and academic entry requirements for particular courses, but this meeting cannot form part of the decision making process on whether to offer a place.

Children and their parents applying for sixth form places may use the Common Application Form (CAF) (through Kent Choices), although if they are already on the roll they are not required to do so in order to transfer into year 12. Admission authorities can, however, set academic entry criteria for their sixth forms, which must be the same for both external and internal places. School sixth form admission arrangements for external applicants must be consulted upon, determined and published in accordance with the same timetable as for admission arrangements for other entry points. As with other points of entry to schools, highest priority in oversubscription criteria for sixth form places must be given to looked after children and previously looked after children who meet the academic entry criteria.

Before you make an appeal it will be helpful for you to understand how the school allocated their offers, so you can understand why your child did not get a place.

What information should I give to the Panel?

If your child did not reach the specified entry requirements, the panel must not make its own assessment of a child's ability, but must decide whether the admission authority's decision that the child was not of the required standard was reasonable in light of the information available to it. In doing so, it must consider whether any process in place to consider such cases (for example, where a pupil had not been studying in England and therefore did not have GCSEs) was carried out in a consistent and objective way.

It's important that you clearly set out the reasons why your child should have a place at your choice of school. You should focus on what the school can offer that meets your child's needs. This can include:

- what the school can offer that other schools/colleges cannot
- what the impact will be on your child in not attending the school of your choice.
- If your child did not reach the specified entry requirements, why you feel the decision not to offer your child a place was not reasonable in light of the information available to the school, or/and why the process was not carried out in a consistent and objective way. Please remember these are the only grounds an appeal can be successful in these circumstances.

Every school has a Published Admission Number (PAN). The PAN is the maximum number of pupils that they will admit to each year group. You may believe that the school could take additional pupils, if so, you could ask the school to provide you with information to help you make your case.

You can also appeal if you believe that the admission authority did not apply their admission arrangements properly and if they had applied them correctly, they would have offered your child a place at the school. You should explain why you believe this is the case and refer to the part of the admission arrangements that you believe has not been applied correctly.

For all appellants. You may wish to incorporate answers to some of the following questions that Panel Members would usually ask when relevant. Remember, you will also have an opportunity to summarise your case on the day of the appeal.

- Have you visited the school?
- What did you like about the school?
- When you looked round other schools what was it about this school that makes you believe it's the right/only school for your child?

- What can the school you want provide for your child that the offered school cannot?
- How will you get your child to the school allocated?
- What's the journey like to the school allocated?
- Are there any health/equality act issues raised in the case?
- What are the problems you will face if they do not get a place at the school?
- What support do you have locally?

Is there anything that the Panel will not accept?

Yes. Examples of school work your child may have undertaken will not be accepted as the Panel will not be able to make a proper judgement about its quality. The members would have nothing to measure it against and would not know the depth of the work submitted. Also, they would not know whether the work had been carried out unaided.

Can I submit additional evidence after the deadline submitting my appeal?

It is suggested that you provide all of your information at the time of appealing, however if you cannot send all the information and supporting evidence you want to at the time you submit your appeal, it's important you send it at your earliest convenience.

You will be supplied with a copy of all of your case papers at least 10 calendar days in advance of the date when the Panel will meet to decide your appeal. At this time you will be issued with all documents relating to your appeal, including the individual statement as to why a place was not offered to your child. Within the first 5 calendar days of these papers being issued to you, you will have an opportunity to add any further information. After that time no further additional information can be received as the Panel would require sufficient time to consider your case.

All paperwork will be issued to you electronically via Microsoft Teams and further instructions will be issued to you nearer the time.

What happens at an appeal hearing?

You will be issued with a link to the time and date of your individual appeal with instructions of how to access the hearing.

On the day of your individual appeal, you will be asked to wait in an online waiting area and will be brought into the meeting via the clerk. Along with the 3 Panel Members and clerk, will also be a representative from the Admission Authority. At no time must either yourself or the Admission Authority representative be left alone with the Panel, unless the clerk is present. If there are any technical issues and any party drops out of the hearing, the clerk will ask you to leave and re-join the meeting, you will remain in the waiting area until all parties are present.

If you do not wish to, or find that you cannot attend your appeal on the day, for whatever reason, the Panel Members may hear the appeal in your absence and make their decision based on the information available to them at the time. If you are not attending the appeal, please email appeals@kent.gov.uk letting the Administrator know in advance so that the Clerk is aware of this.

You are welcome to bring someone to help you put forward your case.

Your 'friend' or adviser at a hearing can be a locally elected politician, or an employee of the local education authority provided that this will not lead to a conflict of interest.

This is an informal tribunal, but obviously it needs to be properly organised. The individual appeal should last approximately 25 minutes and it is worth noting that the Panel can be hearing up to 16 individual appeals per day. The normal procedure is as follows:-

• The Chairman welcomes you to the meeting and introduces the Appeal Panel. During the hearing the Clerk will take notes of what is said in case the Panel needs to refer to them afterwards. These are not published. The Clerk will also be responsible for giving legal and procedural advice to the members of the Appeal Panel.

- The representative from the Admission Authority begins by summarising why your child has not been offered a place at your preferred school. If you wish to ask any questions about what has been said you may do so.
- The Chairman will then invite you to summarise the key aspects of your case, remember that the Panel will have read all the documents in advance, so it is not essential to go over everything in detail. The Panel and the Admission Authority representative may then ask you questions if they need more information.
- The Chairman will ask you if you feel that you have had the opportunity to present your case and all the information that you wish the Panel to take into account in reaching its decision, as once the summing up has taken place there is no further opportunity for either side to add to their case.
- The hearing finishes with the Admission Authority representative, and then you, having a chance to sum up.
- At the end of the hearing you and the Admission Authority representative will be removed from the hearing while the Appeal Panel considers the case in private. The Clerk will stay behind to record the Panel's decision. (Please be aware that where several appeals for the same school are being held, decisions will not be made on individual cases until all of the appeals have been heard).

(The Panel members may ask questions at any time to make sure that they understand all the points made by you and the School representative or if they need more information in order to reach a decision.)

Decision Making

The Panel will then discuss and make a decision to either uphold or dismiss your appeal. Where applicants have been refused admission to a particular school because there are more eligible children than places available and oversubscription criteria have been applied, appeal panels must decide if the school's admission arrangements were correctly and impartially applied in the individual's case and decides whether "prejudice" would arise were the child to be admitted.

In the case of an appeal where the student did not reach the specified entry requirements, the panel must not make its own assessment of a student's ability, but must decide whether the admission authority's decision that the student was not of the required standard was reasonable in light of the information available to it. In doing so, it must consider whether any process in place to consider such cases (for example, where a pupil had not been studying in England and therefore did not have GCSEs) was carried out in a consistent and objective way. In these cases, these are the only factors a Panel can consider when making their decision.

When will I be told if my appeal has been successful?

You will receive notice of the outcome electronically via Microsoft Teams.

The Clerk will normally provide this link to you within 5 School days to notify you of the Panel's decision. If the Panel is hearing a large number of appeals, this will be the 5th School day after the last appeal is considered. The decision of the Appeal Panel is binding and only the courts, by way of a judicial review, can overturn a decision.

If the Panel upholds your appeal the School must admit your child. If the Panel does not uphold your appeal you still have a number of options you may wish to consider.

It's your responsibility to secure suitable education for your child and you may want to seek an alternative school/college place. If your child is without a school place, contact your Local Authorities Admissions Team depending on where you are located, who will be able to advise and inform you of other available places in the area.
